Overflow Room Now Available!

To ensure that as many boards are represented as possible, we are asking that no more than three members per board register.

Due to overwhelming demand, we have worked with our esteemed partners and the host hotel to provide an overflow room, creating an opportunity for an additional 144 attendees to join this sold out event!

Identical Experience, Different View:

While the overflow room may not offer a direct physical view of the main stage, we want to assure you that the overall Summit experience remains identical. The overflow room has been strategically positioned to provide an immersive and inclusive experience for all attendees. Here's what you can expect:

- Live Stream of the Stage: A high-quality live stream will bring every presentation and discussion directly to you.
- Presentations on Screen: All slides and visuals will be displayed on screens in the overflow room, ensuring you don't miss any crucial information.
- Interactive Q&A: Just like in the main hall, you'll have the opportunity to submit questions and actively participate in discussions.
- Access to Meals and Receptions: Enjoy all the perks, including access to delicious meals and networking receptions.

How to Secure Your Spot:

You can secure a seat in the CSPA Summit overflow room through the event registration site.

If you have already registered for the Employment Conference separately, you will not be able to edit your registration using the link below. Please reach out to info@cspasummit.ca to add the Summit Overflow.

To ensure that as many boards are represented as possible, we are asking that no more than three members per board register.

Virtual Attendance Option:

With the availability of additional overflow seats, we have decided not to move forward with the virtual attendance option. The three ways to participate in the CSPA Summit will be:

1. Attend in person in the main room (waitlist only)
2. Attend in person in the overflow room
3. Purchase and view a recording after the Summit

We appreciate your understanding as we strive to meet the growing interest in the CSPA Summit. Our dedication to delivering an exceptional experience for all participants remains unwavering, and the addition of the overflow room ensures that more members can access the invaluable insights shared during the Summit.

Thank you for your continued support, and we look forward to seeing you next month! If you run into any issues or have any questions, please contact info@cspasummit.ca.
